Seminole City Council Leaders Endorse Amanda Makki

St. Petersburg, FL – Two Republican City Council members have thrown their support and endorsements behind Amanda Makki highlighting her advocacy and work as a pro-business candidate.

“One thing is clear: Amanda understands what our local economy needs to stay thriving. She believes in a pro-small business environment that cuts waste and promotes keeping business and government local. She knows that all government should start local and be enhanced at the different levels,” said Councilor Thom Barnhorn.

Additionally, another City Council leader praised Amanda for her leadership and ability to unite others.

“Amanda Makki has a proven record that shows her ability to bring the community together and find commonsense solutions that benefit all citizens,” said Councilor Bob Matthews.

The support of these local leaders is the newest among 13 other major endorsements, that includes House Republican Leader Kevin McCarthy, proving that Amanda Makki is the clear conservative candidate who can beat Charlie Crist. Additionally, Makki was named to the National Republican Campaign Committee’s Young Guns program as one of the top 35 “Contender” candidates. She received endorsements from conservative Representatives Michael Waltz, John Rutherford, Neal Dunn and Michael Burgess, the Conservative groups Republican Main Street Partnership PAC, Maverick PAC, FreedomWorks, ViewPAC, Maggie’s List, Rep. Elise Stefanik’s E-PAC, that helps female GOP candidates get elected, and the Associated Builders & Contractors Florida Gulf Coast Chapter.

“I am honored to have the endorsements of local leaders. It’s just further proof that our campaign’s grassroots movement continues to unite people and grow each day. I look forward to fighting for all of the residents of Pinellas County in Washington,” said Amanda Makki.
